The Indiana State Park and Reservoir central office in Indianapolis maintains a TDD at its front desk. It can answer both the 317-232-4124 and 1-800-622-4931 incoming lines. Since it is not a dedicated line it is important for incoming TDD callers to signal clearly and wait a few seconds for us to establish contact. For calls to individual parks and reservoirs, please use the Relay Operator.

CHARLESTOWN

P.O. Box 38, 12500 St. Rd. 62
Charlestown, IN 47111
812-256-5600

Charlestown State Park is located in southern Indiana with easy access from I-65, 8 miles to the east on state road 62. With scenic vistas of the Fourteenmile Creek valley and elevation changes of over 200 feet, Charlestown has much to offer the visitor with this diversity. While hiking the rugged terrain you will see Devonian fossil outcrops and areas of karst sinkhole topography. Bird watchers will enjoy the 72 species of birds, including bluebirds, black vultures and an occasional bald eagle.

An additional 2,700 acres is to be added to the park as a result of a congressional conveyance bill. This future significant addition to the park will eventually allow convenient access to the Ohio River for boating, fishing, and hiking.

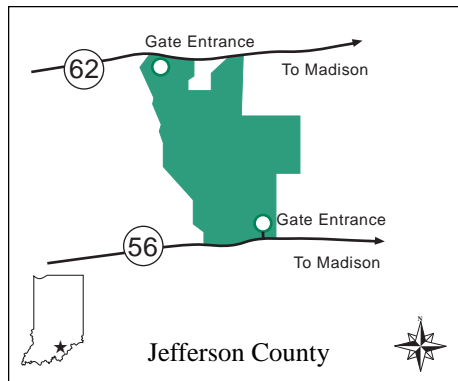

Facilities:

- Camping (see pgs. 33-34)
Full Hookup / 60 sites
Electric / 132 sites
- Camping Reservations (for details see pg. 33)
- Fishing, along Fourteenmile Creek bank on trail 3

The mission of Indiana's Division of State Parks and Reservoirs is to manage and interpret our unique natural, wildlife, and cultural resources utilizing the principles of multiple use and preservation, while sustaining the integrity of these resources for current and future generations.

CLIFTY FALLS

1501 Green Rd. • 2221 Clifty Drive
 Madison, IN 47250 (mapping address)
 812-273-8885
 Clifty Inn (see pg. 15)

Clifty Falls State Park is located near Madison with entrances off state roads 56 and 62. The rugged splendor of Clifty Canyon, scenic waterfalls, and abundant wildlife makes Clifty Falls a premier hiking park. The park's four major waterfalls are typically at their best December through June. While hiking on over 14 miles of marked trails, explore Clifty's 600 foot tunnel made in 1852 by the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad Company.

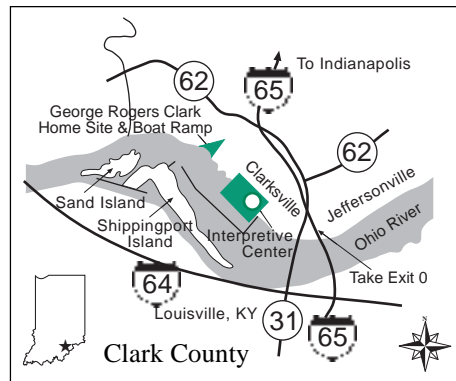

Clifty Inn, overlooks the Ohio valley and the historic river town of Madison and provides year-round dining, lodging, and meeting facilities. In historic Madison tour the Lanier State Historic Site, mansion of frontier banker James F.D. Lanier, and enjoy the drive along the beautiful Ohio River.

FALLS OF THE OHIO

201 West Riverside Drive
 Clarksville, IN 47129
 812-280-9970

Located on the banks of the Ohio River at 201 West Riverside Drive, Clarksville, Indiana (I-65 exit 0), is the Falls of the Ohio State Park. The 386-million-year-old fossil beds are among the largest exposed Devonian fossil beds in the world. The park features a wide screen, interpretive center overlooking the fossil beds. Inside you will find a spectacular 14 minute audio-visual presentation, an exhibit gallery and river and marine aquariums. "Spirit of the Land", a Lewis and Clark Bicentennial movie, is also shown in the afternoon.

Fishing, hiking, fossil viewing, boating, bird watching, and picnicking are among the most common activities.

While fossil collecting is prohibited, the park staff encourages visitors to explore and discover the many different types of fossils that can be found on the ancient sea bottom turned to stone.

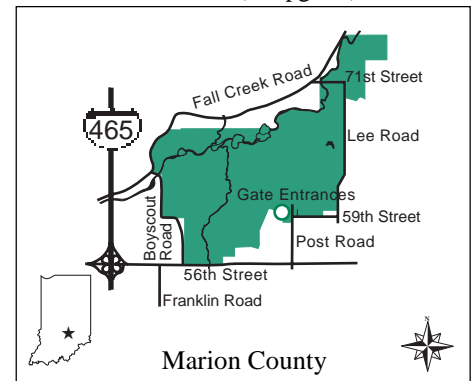

The months of August thru October provide the best accessibility to the 220 acres of fossil beds, as the river is at its lowest level during this period. Please call for times, admission fees and group information.

Facilities:

- Boat Launch Ramp / Ohio River
 - Education Programs
 - Fishing
 - Hiking Trails
 - Picnicking
 - Interpretive Services • Interpretive Center (An entrance fee is charged-DNR Annual Permits not valid for entrance to Interpretive Center)
- Groups of 10 or more students visiting as part of an educational program receive a discount.

FORT HARRISON

5753 Glenn Rd. • Post Rd. at 59th St.
 Indianapolis, IN 46216
 317-591-0904
 Garrison • The Fort (see pg. 15)

Landscape and history blend in a unique setting in northeast Indianapolis at Fort Harrison State Park. The 1700-acre park features walking and jogging trails, picnic sites, fishing access to Fall Creek and two national historic districts. The former Citizen's Military Training Camp, Civilian Conservation Corps camp, and World War II prisoner of war camp is preserved at the park headquarters location.

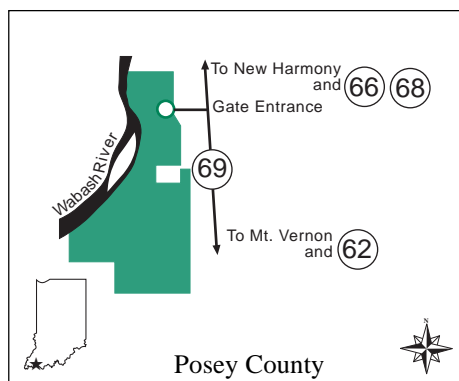

Visitors may enjoy a stop at the park's interpretive center to view exhibits and ask questions of park interpreters. Springtime is a great season to enjoy woodland wildflowers, to watch for warblers flying north for breeding season or listen for elusive resident pileated woodpeckers. The new sledding hill is a great winter attraction.

HARMONIE

3451 Harmonie State Park Road
New Harmony, IN 47631
812-682-4821

Harmonie State Park is located “on the banks of the Wabash,” 25 miles northwest of Evansville. A beautiful swimming pool, shady picnic areas, ravines and pristine landscape await you here. This is a trail lover’s paradise! Trails for walking, biking and nature hikes will lure you for a visit.

Nearby historic New Harmony honors two unique communities from the early 1800s. The Rappites located here in 1814. They were fleeing from religious persecution and awaiting the impending millennium. In 1824, the Owenites brought many great scientists and philosophers into the area when they purchased the Rappites holdings.

INDIANA DUNES NATIONAL LAKESHORE
(219) 926-7561, www.nps.gov/indu
The national lakeshore’s Dunewood Campground is open April through October (fee assessed per site).

INDIANA DUNES

1600 North 25 East
Chesterton, IN 46304
219-926-1952

Let’s head for the beach! You’ll love the sights and sounds of the three miles of shoreline along Lake Michigan. A beautiful nature center offers details of the history of the dunes area and a variety of special programming year-round. The sand dunes will astound you, as will the vast variety of desert plants, giant wood ferns and white pines.

Much of this state park is a dedicated state Nature Preserve. Preservation of this unique area’s biodiversity while managing the large summer beach use is a challenge.

The state park is surrounded by Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore. (see pg. 30)

LINCOLN

Box 216, Hwy. 162
Lincoln City, IN 47552
812-937-4710

Abraham Lincoln would say, “Here I grew up” to describe the rolling hills and shady forest of what is now Lincoln State Park. Ten miles of hiking trails and a 58 acre stocked fishing lake add recreational value. The Lincoln story is told in a grand style drama each summer in our 1,500 seat covered outdoor Amphitheatre.

Nearby home of Colonel William Jones displays the 1830s era brick Federal style house of one of Lincoln’s early employers. Jones was a merchant, land speculator, financier, hog farmer, and politician. Jones was fatally wounded serving as an officer in “Mr Lincoln’s Army” during the Battle of Atlanta in July 1864, less than one year before Lincoln’s assassination.

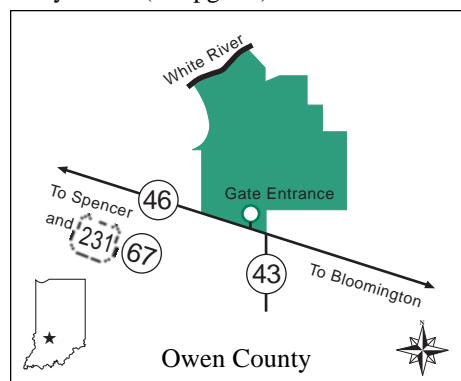

Adjacent Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial features a visitor center, exhibits, films, farm, Lincoln’s mother’s grave site, and a historic hiking trail. (See page 30)

Facilities:

- Boat Launch Ramp
- Boat Motor / Electric trolling only
- Cabins, Family (see pg. 35)

McCORMICK'S CREEK

Route 5 Box 282, St. Rd. 46 East
 Spencer, IN 47460
 812-829-2235
 Canyon Inn (see pg. 15)

Unique limestone formations and scenic waterfalls are some of the beautiful highlights at Indiana's first state park, McCormick's Creek. You'll find this park along the White River, 14 miles northwest of Bloomington.

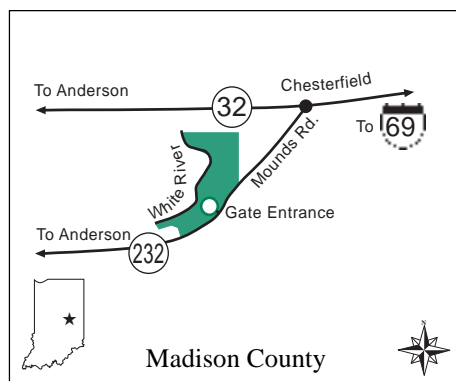

Hike through the thickly wooded areas, roam leisurely through the magnificent canyon surrounded by high cliffs or wind through a narrow hillside cave. Historic features include the State House Quarry site, and many Civilian Conservation Corps structures. Well-manicured grounds surrounding Canyon Inn are maintained to preserve the tranquil setting. Traditionally a family-oriented property, McCormick's Creek State Park offers interpretive activities year-round.

Facilities:

MOUNDS

4306 Mounds Road
 Anderson, IN 46017
 765-642-6627

Mounds State Park, located off I-69 east of Anderson, features 10 unique "earthworks" built by a group of prehistoric Indians known as the Adena-Hopewell people. The largest earthwork, the "Great Mound", is believed to have been constructed around 160 B.C. Archaeological surveys seem to indicate it was used as a gathering place for religious ceremonies.

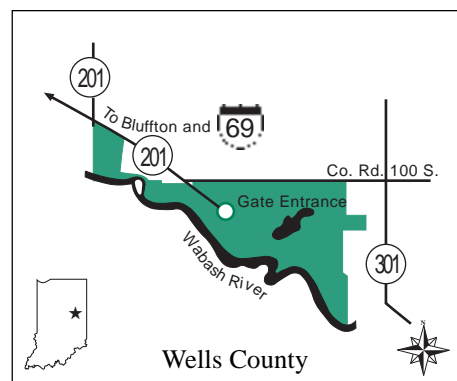

A new Visitor Center was opened in the spring of 2003 featuring many different displays. Special emphasis was placed on the fauna and flora, plus historical and archaeological aspects of the park. The new building bolsters a bird viewing room, small animal displays and hands-on experiences for young and old alike. It also houses park offices and public restrooms.

Facilities:

- Camping (see pgs. 33-34)

OUABACHE

4930 E. St. Rd. 201
 Bluffton, IN 46714
 260-824-0926

Ouabache is difficult to spell, but easy to pronounce. Simply say 'Wabash'...just like the river that forms the southwest boundary for the park. This is the French spelling of an Indian word so don't be surprised to hear some folks call it o-ba-chiee.

Kunkel Lake offers fishing and boating. During the summer months, a naturalist will provide information about the natural wonders of the park. A rental pavilion is ideal for special gatherings and is now available all year.

Facilities:

- Bicycle Trail / 2.65 miles
- Boat Launch Ramp

POKAGON

450 Lane 100 Lake James
Angola, IN 46703
260-833-2012
Potawatomi Inn (see pg. 15)

Pokagon State Park is located near Angola off of I-69. Natural lakes abound in this area and the park borders on Lake James and Snow Lake. This offers abundant opportunities for boating, swimming and fishing.

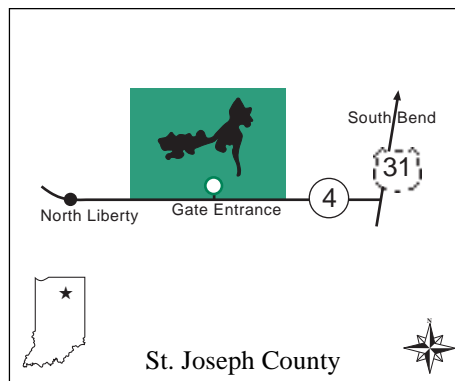

What a thrill! That's what you'll say once you've experienced the quarter mile toboggan track at speeds of 35-40 miles per hour! The toboggan operates weekends from the Friday after Thanksgiving through February, with extended holiday hours. It is closed on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

POTATO CREEK

25601 St. Rd. 4, P.O. Box 908
North Liberty, IN 46554
574-656-8186

Potato Creek is located in north central Indiana about 12 miles southwest of South Bend. The park features a wide array of activities and facilities for year-round enjoyment. We would suggest making reservations at this very popular park.

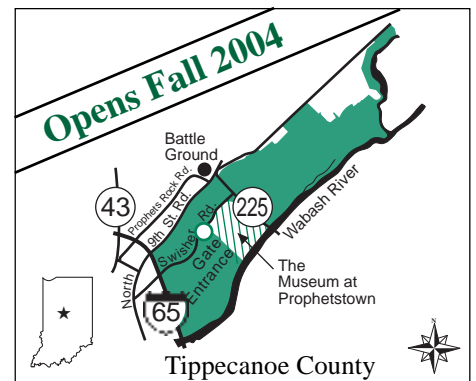

A variety of natural habitats await the visitor to this park including the 327 acre Worster Lake, old fields, mature woodlands, restored prairies and diverse wetlands. Each of these offer their own unique opportunities for plant and wildlife observations.

Facilities:

PROPHETSTOWN

4112 E. St. Rd. 225
West Lafayette, IN 47906
765-567-4919

Construction is under way on Indiana's newest state park. Prophetstown, near Battle Ground in Tippecanoe County, is expected to open in the fall of 2004. Take the state road 43-exit from I-65. Visitors will be able to enjoy stepping back in time as they learn about the fascinating history of this area.

Woodlands, wetlands and restored prairies lay along the famous Wabash and Tippecanoe Rivers within the park. The goal is to recreate the historic landscape of 1811 when the Shawnee leader Tecumseh and his brother, The Prophet, convinced tribes from all over North America to assemble and resist the ever growing European settlement which was taking their land. This will be a state park like no other as it engages the visitor with both history and recreation.

In 2004 there will be hiking trails, a paved bicycle trail, large group and family picnic areas with shelters, playgrounds and restrooms. In 2005 a beautiful campground offering full hookup as well as electric sites will provide overnight accommodations.

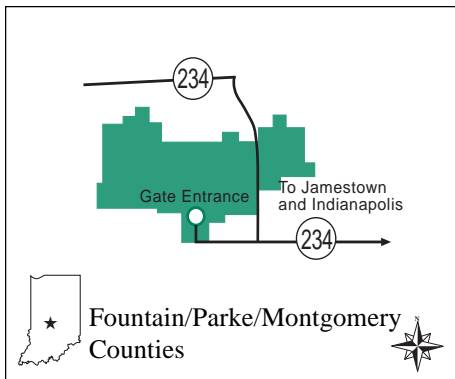

The Museum at Prophetstown represents a unique partnership that is already open. This non-profit organization has created a Native American village, restored prairie and a 1920's era living history farm on 300 acres within the state park. Visitors step back in time to fully appreciate this important part of Indiana history.

Facilities:

- Bike Trail / paved
- Camping (see pgs. 33-34)
 - Full Hookup / 55 sites, Electric / 55 sites
- Dumping Stations
- Fishing
- Hiking Trails
- Picnicking

SHADES

Route 1 Box 72
Waveland, IN 47989
765-435-2810

Shades State Park is that peaceful place you've been looking for. Located about 17 miles southwest of Crawfordsville (off S.R. 47), it is a favorite for hikers and canoeists. The beautiful sandstone cliffs overlooking Sugar Creek and numerous shady ravines provide the backdrop for your journey through this nature lover's paradise.

Adjacent Pine Hills Nature Preserve affords spectacular topography for those willing to take a fairly long hike.

Giant hemlock trees and rare Canada yews thrive in the cool, moist ravines which harbor "relic" plant communities from past glacial times.

Facilities:

- Camping (see pgs. 33-34)
Non-electric / 104 sites
- Camping Reservations (for details see pg. 33)
- Dumping Station
- Fishing
- Hiking Trails
- Interpretive Services / Seasonal

THE TRADITION CONTINUES . . .

For over 75 years, the Indiana State Park Inns have served as the heart of an ongoing tradition for many families and groups. Adults, who as youngsters enjoyed the thrill of a crawl through Wolf Cave as part of a special visit to Canyon Inn with their parents or grandparents, now bring their children and grandchildren to visit. Young couples who honeymooned at Spring Mill Inn or took an excursion train from Chicago to Turkey Run Inn in the 1930's, 40's and 50's return year after year. Today, as many homes become more compact, more families are choosing to call the Indiana State Park Inns home for their family reunions each year.

Indiana's 215 conservation officers are eager to correct a misunderstanding...the concept of enforcement as their sole job is wrong, or more correctly, incomplete. Education and service are also prime components. Here are the most important programs offered by the Law Enforcement Division:

Boater Education is taught in public schools, recreational boating organizations, fishing clubs, and DNR properties. By taking the Indiana Boater Education course, boaters at least fifteen (15) years old may operate a motorboat (along with a BMV I.D.) in Indiana. Our course is also accepted in other states that require mandatory education of boaters.

Hunter Education now mandatory for young hunters born after December 31, 1986, is aimed at continuing the tradition of responsible hunting and outdoor enjoyment. This comprehensive program covers wildlife conservation, firearms safety, hunting laws and regulations.

Trapper Education discusses the value of trapping and the responsibilities of the trapper. Student will learn methods for pursuing various furbearers, how to handle their catch and become more knowledgeable on ethical conduct of this art.

Snowmobile Education teaches safe, ethical snowmobile operation, with an emphasis on respect for other users on trails.

For class schedules and additional information, contact the Law Enforcement Division in Indianapolis or the district nearest your home, or go to:

www.IN.gov/dnr/lawenfor

T.I.P. (Turn In A Poacher) is an ongoing program designed to stop illegal hunting and fishing activities as well as the pollution of rivers and streams and wetlands destruction. Concerned citizens are encouraged to call the 1-800-TIP-IDNR (1-800-847-4367) Hot Line with information about these violations. Any information leading to an arrest qualifies the caller for a reward of up to $200.00. Anonymous calls are accepted.

Indiana's system of Nature Preserves protects unique or outstanding natural areas throughout the state. They are living museums which contain examples of relatively undisturbed natural communities similar to those seen by the first explorers to this region. Many also serve as habitat for species of plants and animals which are rare in Indiana. In addition to the nature preserves listed on the map, a number of areas within other DNR properties are designated as nature preserves. There are also nature preserves owned by local governments, universities and private conservation organizations. A directory of Indiana's dedicated nature preserves is available upon request. The only activities universally allowed at nature preserves are hiking or photography.

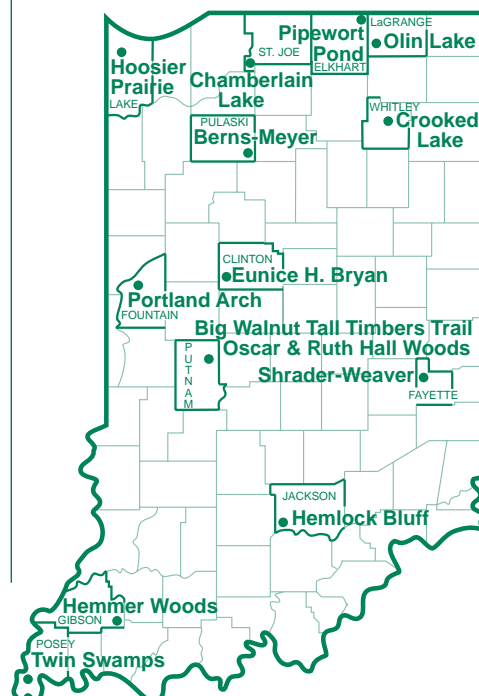

For more information on these or additional preserves, write, call or visit our website:
